COMPATIBILITY PROFILE PRINCESS DIANA AND JOHN LENNON

Princess's Sun Square John's Sun Orb 6 Deg's ***

Essentially, Princess, this is an aspect of mutual interference and makes for basic incompatibility - ego conflicts, differences of opinion, personality clashes and problems in co-operation are probable. As time goes by you find that you each have quite distinct 'ego zones' and each of you will object quite strongly to theirs being invaded and managed by the other- you both need your own space and your own way of living. You may find yourselves engaged in a battle of wills; conflicts are inevitable. You tend to interfere with each other's activities and boss each other around, which causes mutual anger and irritation. However, these difficulties are not insurmountable, providing many other positive indicators are present.

To work well together, a blending of the best of each of your personal qualities is required, and each showing more consideration for the other. In order to preserve a long-term, harmonious relationship it is important that a consistent level of co-operation and understanding is maintained. From a positive standpoint, it means that you can each become stronger in your own right as you continually wrestle for supremacy, or better still, accept what one Sun Sign can learn or gain from another.

Princess's Sun Trine John's Mercury Orb 2 Deg's *****

This combination of planets is very favorable for intellectual friendship and mutual co-operation. You have no trouble communicating, especially with regard to the more objective or non-emotional issues of life. This is a good aspect for intellectual companionship; you will assist one another in the development of your minds and careers. You tend to stimulate John's mind and encourages new ideas, and in return, he provides inspiration and good advice for your own creative projects. You are the one who gets on and does things while John will talk or think about the issue constantly. This is a very helpful aspect for any kind of relationship because each will give confidence to the other and any differences of opinion are discussed and soon resolved through plain common sense. It also favors any form of working partnership, especially businesses related to real estate, food, restaurants, and home and domestic products. It should be understood that this aspect does not, of itself, indicate sexual attraction, but it does improve overall compatibility if other supporting aspects show romantic or sexual attraction.

Princess's Sun Square John's Mars Orb 7 Deg's **

This is a most formidable and difficult mutual aspect Princess, because this grouping is indicative of conflict, violent disagreement and extreme aggression. It is not easy to live with, you both compete for supremacy and this may lead to arguments, fights, or power struggles - even to dangerous, reckless, or ill-considered actions. It is well to point out that although this influence does suggest a sexual encounter it is not one of love and romance in the generally accepted sense of being joined together emotionally. It is stressing the need for each of you to be an independent individual in your own right - independence and free will within a relationship. If yours is a relationship based on sex, the lack of warm emotions can be quite noticeable, especially if other mutual aspects do not compensate for this.

There can be an impulsive, 'let's go and do it' approach to things, but little receptivity, tenderness or passivity. Therefore, this is especially noticeable if yours is a sexual relationship, meaning that it can be very exciting and immediate up until the point where it becomes too coarse or one-dimensional for one or both of you. Unless there are many indications to the contrary, this relationship is likely to fail - possibly in an unsavory manner. You will find it increasingly difficult to live with John's aggressive, demanding and competitive nature. Conversely, John can become frustrated and infuriated by your arrogant, selfish and dictatorial attitude.

Princess's Sun Sextile John's Jupiter Orb 4 Deg's ****

This aspect, Princess, is one of the best possible indicators of a long-term relationship. It denotes happiness, a sense of expansion and a harmonious union based on the same ethical and cultural values. It is one of the few aspects that are totally positive, and it will be a great help in overcoming any friction and disagreement indicated elsewhere in the chart. You trust each other - for very good reasons, as you are both kind, generous and helpful, not only to each other but to other people generally. John will have a positive and expansive effect on your personality - His very presence gives you a feeling of well-being and a sense of contentment. Your outlook will be more optimistic and fortunate, because John helps you to expand your consciousness and broaden the scope of your life generally. You, on the other hand, stimulate and bolster John's self-confidence.

You co-operate well with each other and this could lead to increased prosperity and general good fortune. However, restraint may be needed at times, not to overdo, overspend or overindulge. You will have a mutual interest in philosophical, religious and other profound subjects; supporting each other's efforts at self-improvement and cultural or spiritual growth. In due course, you will come to realize that together you are better and stronger than each one separately. You should do well in together in business, especial in the areas of promotion and public relations - you are mutually supportive and encouraging. Travel may be added feature.

Princess's Sun Sextile John's Saturn Orb 4 Deg's ****

This, Princess, is a helpful aspect because it indicates an enduring, responsible and serious friendship. As a couple, you can function in a businesslike way, each determining and knowing what roles to play or what responsibilities to fulfill. This aspect confers mutual trust and reliability and is an excellent combination for business and professional relationships. Of itself, this aspect does not produce romantic attraction, but it can greatly increase the stability and durability of a marriage. You will work well together in social groups and organizations and generally make steadfast and loyal friends. It is probable that John takes the initiative and guides the relationship with restraint, caution, discipline, organization and a sense of purpose. You respond by providing John with warmth and understanding, which bolsters his self-confidence and reduces some of the doubts, fears and negative self-limitations that, at times, beset him. Certainly, the ties between you will be strong and lasting, although this will probably take some time to establish.

Princess's Sun Square John's N.Node Orb 1 Deg's *****

This aspect, Princess, implies that differences in your respective social and cultural backgrounds may create some difficulties in your relationship. Your will and self-expression can conflict with John's sense of social timing and propriety. At times, John may feel that you are on an ego trip, forcing your particular personality on the scene in socially unacceptable and inappropriate ways. Conversely, you are apt to feel that John lacks individuality and, at times, acts like some kind of programmed cultural robot.

Princess's Moon Opposition John's Venus Orb 8 Deg's **

Generally, Princess, this is a nice aspect to have in your relationship because sexual and romantic attraction is strong and you should enjoy each other's company. There is an inherent instability however, which may create some minor difficulties on the emotional - manifesting as subtle swings of mood that cause misunderstandings and hurt feelings. On the domestic and social level some mutual extravagance, over-indulgence or a liking for good things in life may strain finances.

Princess's Moon Square John's Uranus Orb 1 Deg's *****

This aspect in a relationship, Princess, is like heating the bathroom with an exposed electrical appliance - a prolonged shower or soak in the tub will generate sufficient moisture in the room to short-circuit the appliance, thus blowing a fuse. This relationship is, at best, a valuable learning experience: at worst - the men in white coats are coming, are coming... and probably for you, Princess! Needless to say, this is an unstable and unpredictable association and unless there are many compensatory indicators, a prolonged close relationship is not desirable. There may be metaphysical, occult or psychic overtones.

Princess's Moon Trine John's Asc Orb 5 Deg's ****

This is an excellent aspect, Princess, especially for close romantic and marital relationships. Strong emotional compatibility, mutual understanding and natural co-operation are indicated. You should find John emotionally stimulating and easy to relate to. Likewise, John will feel at-home and uninhibited in your company.

Princess's Mercury Trine John's Mercury Orb 5 Deg's ***

Intellectual compatibility is highlighted by this combination of planets. You should feel mentally at ease with John and in tune with his ideas and interests. This is very helpful aspect in a relationship because it promotes easy dialogue and a high level of general co-operation. You will certainly stimulate each other's mind through a sharing knowledge and expertise and it is probable that you have many intellectual interests in common. Your rational, logical and common-sense approach to domestic problems helps to minimize any areas of mutual conflict.

Princess's Mercury Sextile John's Venus Orb 0 Deg's *****

This is a helpful aspect, Princess, because it suggests pleasant communications with John. He finds you witty, amusing, attractive and socially acceptable. Likewise, you are fascinated by John and find his emotional, artistic and social qualities mentally stimulating. It is probable that you share similar social and intellectual interests and have many friends in common. Mutual respect and kindness helps to minimize unpleasantness in your relationship.

Princess's Mercury Square John's Mars Orb 1 Deg's *****

Serious disagreements, heated verbal arguments and simmering resentments are just some of the possibilities with this mutual aspect. When disagreements do occur, you will both defend your differing points of view to the bitter end. On these occasions, John regards you as indecisive, obstructive and faultfinding, and from your perspective, he is seen as bossy, demanding, loud, aggressive and impetuous.

Princess's Mercury Square John's Neptune Orb 7 Deg's *

From an intellectual point of view, Princess, you find John interesting, artistic and idealist. However, in a close, long-term relationship, serious problems could develop because of differing moral and spiritual values. Eventually, you may come to feel mentally drained and confused in John's company. You may regard him as unrealistic, impractical, evasive, deceptive and living in a dream world. Conversely, John may regard you as critical, unimaginative, mentally stagnant and lacking true depth of thought.

Princess's Mercury Square John's N.Node Orb 8 Deg's *

This aspect, Princess, suggests that your respective social and political views are different and that some problems can be expected in this area of your relationship.

Princess's Venus Trine John's Moon Orb 4 Deg's ****

This, Princess, is one of the very best possible aspects for love and romance - your relationship with John contains passionate mutual attraction, sympathetic understanding, tenderness, emotional compatibility, deep affection and genuine love. This is all conducive to a harmonious and long-term relationship. You may genuinely feel that John is the closest that you will ever come to the ideal romantic partner. Marriage is a definite possibility. Luck and general good fortune may be a feature.

Princess's Venus Trine John's Mars Orb 8 Deg's *

This aspect, Princess, indicates sexual and romantic involvement. Your emotional and sexual compatibility ensures that lovemaking is easy and pleasurable. You complement each other perfectly and as a unit, you are stronger than your respective parts because you compensate for each other's weaknesses. This is an excellent aspect for long-term relationships and marriage.

Princess's Venus Conjunction John's Uranus Orb 1 Deg's *****

This pairing of planets indicates a sudden romantic adventure - it could even be a case of love at first sight. You may have met under unusual circumstances; or you may have become immediately attracted to each other by strong sexual magnetism. This initial encounter could have been a mutually exciting and intense experience. It is probable that your relationship is unconventional or unusual in some way. Mutual interests may include astrology, science, metaphysics, occultism or New Age philosophy. If other factors support marriage and long-term commitment then this aspect is an enhancing feature. However, if the reverse is true then the relationship could end suddenly or gradually burn itself out.

Princess's Venus Trine John's Neptune Orb 2 Deg's *****

This combination of planets, Princess, indicates a strong emotional bond between yourself and John and it is likely that you experience intuitive, psychic or telepathic rapport. This contact elevates romance and friendship to a higher and more refined level of expression - you may both feel that you have found your ideal partner or true soul mate. Your relationship contains true affection, tenderness, sympathetic understanding, undiluted love, harmony and deep emotional empathy. Mutual interests may include art, music, social welfare, religion, spiritual study or mysticism.

Princess's Venus Sextile John's M.C. Orb 3 Deg's ***

This is an excellent aspect, Princess, and suggests that you have some involvement in John's professional life. It may be that you further John's career by providing social contacts, financial support or cultural influence. The association is likely to increase your social status as a couple and bring financial rewards.

Princess's Mars Conjunction John's Venus Orb 1 Deg's *****

Astrologically, Princess, this pairing of planets is regarded as the strongest single indicator of sexual attraction. Therefore, your love-life with John should be passionate, uninhibited and deeply satisfying. If other supporting aspects are present then marriage is a strong possibility.

Princess's Mars Square John's Uranus Orb 6 Deg's *

The energies involved in this planetary grouping, Princess, are not conducive to long-term close relationships. Your association with John has an inherent instability and potential for explosive confrontation. Sudden unexpected changes and reverses of fortune may undermine your friendship. You may come to regard John as eccentric, unreliable, changeable and emotionally erratic and you may feel ill at ease or on-edge in his presence. Conversely, John views you as impulsive, demanding and argumentative. If a mature relationship does unfold then it will develop in an original or unusual way and as a couple, you may possess a strong sense of rebellion, social non-conformity or defiance. Mutual interests may include astrology, metaphysics, New Age philosophy, hi-tech science, or social reform.

Princess's Jupiter Conjunction John's Moon Orb 7 Deg's **

This mutual conjunction, Princess, is a wonderful aspect for your relationship with John. It tends to work on a level higher than sex and romance; yet, it effectively strengthens and deepens the friendships. It indicates trust, mutual confidence, emotional warmth, optimism, harmony of purpose, unconditional sharing and general good fortune. Probable conditioning factors may relate in some way to religious, philosophical or social activities. A home abroad or foreign travel may be a feature.

Princess's Jupiter Square John's Mercury Orb 3 Deg's ****

With this aspect Princess, it is probable your religious, ideological or social views may be in conflict with John's philosophical ideals. This situation may create some mental or moral confusion and an occasional lack of mutual understanding. However, this should not prove too much of a handicap in your relationship providing that you both exercise a degree of kindness and tolerance for each other's personal ideals.

Princess's Jupiter Trine John's Mars Orb 3 Deg's ****

This is an excellent aspect, Princess, because it indicates that, as a couple, you are likely to achieve prosperity or increased social status. This will be attained through mutual co-operation and intelligent constructive effort. John finds your philosophical, religious or social ideals attractive, and it is probable that you channel a great deal of your energy into a joint social enterprise or some educational self-improvement project. There may be a mutual love of sport or some other outdoor pursuit.

Princess's Jupiter Opposition John's Pluto Orb 1 Deg's *****

This pairing of planets, Princess, is not a good influence in romantic relationships for it indicates power struggles and disagreements relating to business, political, professional, religious, educational, spiritual and joint financial affairs. Lawsuits can arise over inheritance, alimony, or corporate finances. Blame and recrimination is strong with this interaction as John's powerful emotional urges and convictions will clash with your strong ethical and religious beliefs. John may have psychic and occult interests and these may be the cause of much mutual disagreement and argument. Regarding these issues, you may perceive John as tyrannical, ruthless and oppressive; you resent his coercive efforts to restructure your values. From John's standpoint, you are regarded as unexciting, holier-than-thou, overly traditional, non-progressive, hypocritical and an impractical idealist. Your association may be based on ulterior motives.

In a worse case scenario, your expansive urge, combined with the power drive of the John, could lead to dangerous and unethical attempts to achieve financial benefit, power and social influence. In a mature and serious relationship, this influence may not be too detrimental providing you are aware of each other's ulterior motives; the relationship will last only as long as there is something to be gained through it.

Princess's Jupiter Trine John's N.Node Orb 6 Deg's ***

This pairing, Princess, will help deepen your relationship for it indicates a mutual interest towards building something special into your relationship through your similar philosophical perspectives. John may have a Karmic dictate to expand his own knowledge and perhaps the ideologies of others. In this situation, John is the empty vessel waiting to be filled; You, Princess, are the giver of knowledge that will fill the empty vessel. However, this will be a longer-range project requiring dedication and constant expansion of knowledge regarding prevailing social attitudes and beliefs.

Princess's Jupiter Opposition John's M.C. Orb 8 Deg's *

This aspect combination is excellent, Princess, in that it adds a harmonious and beneficial element to those areas of your relationship dealing with business, home, family, religious, professional and social life. You are likely to use your home as the centre of operations when dealing with such issues. A business partnership it is likely to be very successful and profitable - especially in businesses relating to property, real estate, and off-the-land farm products.

Princess's Saturn Conjunct John's Moon Orb 0 Deg's *****

This alliance of planets, Princess, is generally regarded as one of the most difficult for any relationship: negativity, general despondency and a lack of joy and spontaneity are the usual results of a prolonged association. John may eventually feel restricted, emotionally deprived, unloved and neglected. From your perspective, he is irrational, moody and childishly irresponsible. Financial difficulties may be a factor. Notwithstanding, if a mature relationship develops it is certain that John genuinely requires structure and discipline for a balanced life. Equally, you require a soul - an emotional link to a more refined and deeper appreciation of the non-material aspects of life.

Princess's Saturn Trine John's Mars Orb 5 Deg's ***

This, Princess, can be a very helpful alliance of planets because it suggests effective and sustained mutual co-operation relating to the more important and practical aspects of life. You can teach John how to discipline and channel his energies into worthwhile and constructive endeavor, and in return, he can help you to overcome your negative attitude and inherent inertia. As a couple, you have the determination and discipline to overcome even the most serious of difficulties.

Princess's Uranus Conjunct John's Venus Orb 9 Deg's *

This pairing of planets indicates a sudden romantic adventure; it could even be a case of love at first sight. You may have met under unusual circumstances, or you became immediately attracted to each other by strong sexual magnetism. This initial encounter could have been a mutually exciting and intense experience. It is probable that your relationship is unconventional or unusual in some way. Mutual interests may include astrology, science, metaphysics, occultism or New Age philosophy. If other factors support marriage and long-term commitment then this aspect is an enhancing feature. However, if the reverse is true then the relationship could end suddenly or gradually burn itself out.

Princess's Neptune Conjunct John's Mercury Orb 1 Deg's *****

With this combination, Princess, it is likely that you will have a morally uplifting, soothing and introspective effect upon John's mind. You bring him into contact with profound concepts of life that he finds intellectually fascinating - meditation, religion, spiritual development, psychic phenomena and occult work are just some of the possible areas of mental diversion. You gain through John's ability to formulate and structure your ideas and beliefs for social acceptance, promotion or professional recognition. You tend to value the emotional content of experience above the common sense, logical approach. At times, you may give the impression of being emotionally confused, vague, woolly-minded or just spaced-out. John's analytical and practical qualities of mind help to balance this situation.

Princess's Neptune Opposition John's Jupiter Orb 5 Deg's ***

This pairing of planets, Princess, brings an element of deception and ulterior motive to your relationship. It is not regarded as favorable for cooperation in the effective handling of practical issues, domestic affairs and family responsibilities. There is the possibility that you may encourage each other's self-indulgent inclinations and urge each other to avoid practical responsibility. Escapist tendencies may involve the use of drugs, drink or other self-destructive habits. Confusion occurs regarding your individual philosophies on life; John's intellectually determined convictions clash with your emotionally inspired ones. There can be major clashes of opinion regarding your different approaches to religion, philosophy, education, or mysticism; also a possibility that you both become involved in doubtful forms of religious mysticism, strange cults, or other psychic practices.

It is possible that you both contribute, at times, to some form of mutual self-deception, encouraging delusions of grandeur and false illusions in each other. In some areas, your mutual judgment is poor, and together you are likely to be undisciplined, sentimental, irresponsible and indulgent. There is also the possibility that you could bring out each other's self-destructive tendencies, or travel through life aimlessly in a vain attempt to avoid a confrontation with reality. Regarding these issues John may regard you as unconventional, deluded, unstable and impractical, living in a private dream world. You, in turn, may regard John as overly conventional and traditional, lacking true insight and imagination.

On a more positive note, it may be that this aspect is actually required in your relationship. John may have reached the point in his development where he requires deeper understanding, tolerance of others views and possibly mystical knowledge; you can help him with this. On the other hand, you may need John's form of grounding in order that your views are made more acceptable to the social reality of your friends and associates. You both have valid issues to contribute so it is just a matter of finding common ground and making a commitment to learn from, or to tolerate each other's opposing viewpoints.

Princess's Pluto Sextile John's Mercury Orb 2 Deg's *****

With this combination, Princess, it is likely that you will have a transformative effect upon John's mind. You bring him into contact with revolutionary concepts of life that he finds intellectually fascinating. This association can irrevocably change John's mental view of life. Politics, social reform, scientific work, spiritual development, depth psychology, occult work and life-after-death issues are just some of the possible areas of mental diversion. You gain through John's ability to formulate and structure your ideas and beliefs regarding social, political or domestic reform. As a couple, you are probably involved in many self-improvement projects.

Princess's Pluto Conjunct John's Venus Orb 3 Deg's ***

Astrologically, Princess, this pairing of planets is regarded as one of the strongest indicators of intense sexual attraction. Therefore, your love life with John should be passionate, uninhibited and emotionally satisfying. This aspect alone does not guarantee romance or emotional harmony but it does indicate sexual compatibility. In fact, there is some danger that sex may become the most important feature of the relationship. In this situation, it could take an undesirable or abnormal form.

Princess's Pluto Trine John's Jupiter Orb 8 Deg's *

For a progressive relationship, Princess, this is a very helpful and dynamic combination. It bestows mutual understanding and a high level of cooperation in cultural, financial, occult, scientific, or religious endeavors. It will assist your efforts to improve the status quo of your lives and effect nothing short of a transformation of being. Old outworn attitudes and beliefs will be radically changed or discarded and a new philosophy (almost without boundary) is adopted in order to bring about an unfoldment into a larger more inclusive order of wealth and belief; in effect, a mutual spiritual regeneration - fulfilling the potential of your being together; which may also benefit society as a whole. John knows the way to get there; you have the power to get there. You become a more socially aware and powerful combination, spurring each other on to even greater cultural or academic achievements. You both take pleasure in the philosophical, emotional, and spiritual stimulation that each induces in the other. John's quest for knowledge and your probe for the mysterious suggest a team that needs to understand everything.

Regarding these issues, your dynamic will or penetrating occult insights can expand and deepen John's philosophical and religious understanding. He in turn encourages you to use your insight, strong will power and resourcefulness in a more constructive and beneficial manner. John's social aspirations will find a better channel with your help, for you know the correct action to take and are capable of applying the necessary force to fulfill such purpose. On the negative side, in times of stress, there can be a fight for control of each other; a power struggle in which, in most cases, your force of personality brings you victory. John is typically giving in nature and you know best how to manipulate or take. Resentment can build if the situation gets out of hand.

Princess's N.Node Conjunct John's Venus Orb 5 Deg's ***

This aspect suggests that your relationship with John may bring some form of social or financial success.

Princess's Asc Sextile John's Sun Orb 3 Deg's *****

Romance, mutual attraction and harmony in marriage are favored by this astrological alignment. In general, Princess, it indicates that you each have a positive and creative effect on the other and as a couple, you get on well together and enjoy each other's company. This is an excellent pointer to long-term compatibility.

Princess's M.C. Conjunct John's Sun Orb 7 Deg's **

Generally, Princess, this combination produces a smooth running relationship, where both parties are acutely aware of, and assist, each other's status and progress in the world. Any joint business, professional or political ventures should be very successful. John is certain to be in some way instrumental in expanding your professional or social status. You, on the other hand, provide help and support for John's personal creative goals and objectives. You also guide him to more affective self-expression, especially when it comes to improving business and social status.

Princess's M.C. Square John's Moon Orb 5 Deg's *****

Differences in social or family backgrounds may present emotional, domestic, professional and social difficulties. You may feel held back from fulfilling career, social or professional ambitions due to conflicting emotional and domestic obligations. John may feel emotionally insecure, lonely and unappreciated and he may view your professional obligations as a real threat to the stability of the relationship.
